Fast Cash Loans

Payday Loan Info can teach you which fast cash loans are the safest way to get your cash now without running into debt. Decide if fast cash loans are right for you.

Fast Cash Loans

I'm not going to try and embarrass you by mentioning reasons why you might need cash now. We've all been there and don't have any cash coming for at least a couple weeks. If you're anything like me, you've probably considered fast cash loans. Actually, since you've come to this site, I'm pretty sure you've considered fast cash loans :)

The dangers of fast cash loans

It seems like everyone on the net is offering you their version of fast cash loans. What really separates fast cash loans from say regular cash loans? Are they just a marketing term geared at the more "desperate?" Unfortunately, fast cash loans can just be another word thought up by marketing to try to appeal to a certain type of audience. Since companies realize this, you need to be extra careful when looking for fast cash loans.

An important thing to look at when considering where to get your cash loan, is what information the cash loan company is willing to give you before your application. Most cash loan companies have really simple sites that just present you with an online cash loan application. There seems to be no actual information on how much these fast cash loans are going to cost you or even when you need to pay them back by!

How can you find information about fast cash loans?

The key to finding information about your fast cash loans is by poking around the site. Normally a good section to check would be the FAQs, or frequently asked questions. Often you can find answers to questions like "Can I get an extension if needed?" in these sections. The other good way to find out is to fill out an application to the end, only using fake information. This will allow you to get to the contract you're expected to sign. Here, you can learn the company's policies on how much fast cash loans cost, what kind of late fees you can be charged, and exactly how long you have to pay them back.

Are fast cash loans really worth it?

This all depends on your situation. If you need to feed a child or pay an unexpected bill, then by all means you should consider them. If you're simply looking for some cash to impress a girl on your next date, you better think about what you're getting into. Fast cash loans can seem really risk-free since you automatically pay them off on your next payday, but think about what happens if you then need cash by that next payday? Another fast cash loan? When does it end? Think of all the money you'll be spending in fees just to keep taking out money. Be careful and use your judgement whether fast cash loans are right for you or not.

UPDATED: 18-January-1996

CASH ADVANCES AGAINST PAYROLL P 503

Issued by: Office of the Vice President for Administration

Replaces: Policy 45, October, 1974

Approved: July, 1989

The Vice President for Administration, or designee, may authorize the payment of advances against salary or wages earned by employees. Cash advances will be approved only for new employees whose payroll checks do not arrive when due, or for employees whose payroll checks are in error.

Cash advances may be granted up to 70% of gross wages or salary earned.

Advances against payroll will not be approved as short term loans, or for vacation accruals, or to provide for lump sum payments at termination.

PROCEDURE: REQUESTS FOR CASH ADVANCES

After securing departmental approval, eligible State or Research Foundation employees should forward requests for cash advances, written by the department manager, to the Supervisor for University Disbursements.

The Supervisor for University Disbursements will decide each case on its merits, subject to the availability of funds.

Employees receiving cash advances will be required to complete a Power of Attorney form at the time of receipt of the advance payment to ensure that the amount advanced will be recovered from subsequent payroll checks.
